Throughout the past 30 years she has conducted workshops and acted as facilitator with church, community groups and with individuals to produce art works based on a particular Christian theme. These include 'The Great Southland' at Parkin Wesley College, 'Kata Tjuta Rainbow' at Adelaide College of Divinity and the 'Pacific Earth Charter 2003' which now hangs in Brisbane Town Hall. Some of her recent textile works can be seen in Pilgrim Church Hall, 12 Flinders St. Adelaide and in Enfield Uniting Church, Main North Road.

As a practising artist for over 50 years she has exhibited in many mediums, currently her passion is for multi-media works using fabric with a variety of dye processes, digital photography, paint and found objects.

She cares for her native plant garden, attends a local EFM gym 4 times a week and is a slave to two cats, Jackson and Ella.
